Scott Bowen / Concord-Carlisle

► DEFENSE

The Concord-Carlisle defense allowed only six goals a game this season thanks to Bowen's leadership. The 5-11, 190-pound senior was charged with covering the opposition's top attacker, and he performed admirably as Concord-Carlisle advanced into the postseason. Bowen started for three seasons, and his team made it to the playoffs each year. When he's not clamping down on defense, he enjoys football, skiing, and weightlifting. He will attend Bridgton Academy.

Scott Bowen Concord-Carlisle

Bowen, a senior defenseman and first-team all-scholastic, will prep at Bridgton Academy beginning in the fall.

Bowen's strength and speed limited Newton South's James O'Shaughnessy, the top scorer in Eastern Mass., to just three points in their matchup. He similarly clamped down on Hingham all-scholastic Richard Santoro.

The Patriots, 11-7 this spring, reached the state tournament all three years that Bowen started. He was also a Dual County League all-star running back in football.

Charlie Lonergan Concord-Carlisle

Lonergan, a senior attackman and captain, had 38 goals and 35 assists this season and was team MVP and a West first-team All-Star.

"He's been playing lacrosse forever," Concord-Carlisle coach Nick Boynton says about the three-year starter. Next season, Lonergan will play lacrosse at Hobart College.

"Charlie was our offensive finisher," says Boynton.
